CARRIE: Dawn of Rescue

Chapter 1: Reason (Part 1)

Date: Tuesday 25th June 2058

Time: 10:00am

Location: Tracy Island, South Pacific

It was a lovely spring to summer day on Tracy Island, the secret headquarters for the Courageous Tracy Family, & their secret organisation: International Rescue. Where or whenever a disaster strikes, anywhere upon, or beyond the earth, caused my man or by nature, they are always there to lend a helping hand to save any lives in danger. But it isn't always done by themselves, but along with aid of their incredible rescue machines: The Thunderbirds.

That Morning, Scott was resting on the sofa in the main living room, when Alan came in.

"_Hey Alan, what are you doing?"_ Scott asked.

"_Not much Scott, any new rescues today?"_ Alan asked back, just as he came to sit down on the couch.

"_Not really, Virgil, Gordon & Kayo are already on today's mission. John is still on standby for any other missions just in case."_ Scott replied.

"_I see, Scott, there's something that has been bothering me recently, I thought it would be best if I told you about it."_ Alan said curiously.

"_What would that be?"_ Scott asked curiously also.

"_I know that dad created our organisation because of many disasters, & what happened to mom, but I'm curious about what actually began it all?"_ Alan explained & asked in more curiosity.

"_Wellâ€¦ If you really want to know Alan, Dad created our organisation, from an old idea he had, after a disaster he was at, back in 2013, when he was at Ewen high school in Chamberlain, Maine. It was known as the: __"Black Prom Massacre"___, Grandma Tracy was also around when it happened."_ Scott explained.

"_The Black Prom Massacre? What happened in that?"_ Alan asked curiously, & nervously.

"_Most of the students at Ewen High School, bullied a student, a young girl named: __Carrie White_. Carrie white was an outcast at the school, she was also brought & on the prom night, when she was crowned queen, some of the students who had been kicked off for bullying her, including __Chris Hargensen,_ poured a bucket of cold blood on her, causing everyone to laugh at her. But after her prom date was killed, she unleashed a secret power she had, which caused her to kill nearly everyone within the school, luckily dad was able to get out alive."_ Scott explained.

"_Whoa, that soundsâ€¦ unusual."_ Alan said nervously but curiously as well.

"_Carrie & her mother were later found dead after their home collapsed on top of them both, caused by Carrie's powers, according to Sue Snell, the main survivor of the prom, she also proved that Carrie had no intention of causing that massacre on purpose, she was pushed into causing it."_ Scott continued.

"_I hope dad wasn't one of those bulliesâ€¦"_ Alan said nervously again.

"_He wasn't Alan, in fact, Chris & her friends picked on dad a bit as well."_ _Scott explained again.

"_Oh man, I feel sorry for Carrie. I only she was still aliveâ€¦"_ Alan said, feeling slightly sad from the story.

"_Not many, but some of us still do after all these years Alanâ€¦"_ Scott replied, feeling the same as Alan.

An alarm then blared, as a hologram of John appeared from the eyes of his International Rescue picture on the wall.

"_International Rescue, we have a situationâ€|"_ John said through his projection.

Date: Monday 24th June 2013

Time: 10:00am

Location: Chamberlain Cemetery, Chamberlain, Maine

It was quiet in the town of Chamberlain, Maine. The town had fallen quiet since the prom massacre, from two days ago. Everyone within the town, was mourning the deaths of all the students, except Carrie's. The only person who mourned Carrie's death, was Sue Snell, who was presently walking through the cemetery towards Carrie & her mother's vandalised grave. Sue was not just sad for the losses of both Carrie & her boyfriend: Tommy Ross, But also the fact that Sue was three days pregnant with, Tommy's unborn daughter, Who Carrie had saved Sue & her child from sharing the same fate. As Sue then approached Carrie's grave, she then laid a white rose her grave, before walking away very slowly. Suddenly the gravestone began to slowly crack, as a girl's scream echoed.

(Later at nightâ€|)

It was quiet in the cemetery, until the ground started rumbling around Carrie's grave. The cracked all around, until it gave way, taking the vandalised gravestone with it, leaving some earth standing, holding a wood rotted coffin. The coffin lid then cracked, before blowing off in half.

Out of the coffin, rose Carrie, as she weakly pulled herself out of the coffin, out onto some of the earth that not collapsed, & rolled onto her back, breathing & coughing heavily & in a raspy tone. Carrie was covered completely in dried blood & dirt, along with her torn & weathered night dress that was wearing when she tried to kill herself. Carrie then quickly began grappling the ground, pulling & dragging herself weakly across it towards the metal fence that blocked the way towards the woods. As she stopped at the fence, she slowly & weakly looked up the fence with her dry blood shot eyes. She tried to unleash her power to cause the fence to open or fall, but as hard as she tried, nothing happened, Carrie was too weak to get the fence down. Carrie then fell unconscious for the rest of the night.

Location: Chamberlain Cemetery, Chamberlain, Maine

Carrie woke up, still weak, in pain & suffering nightmares of her prom, as she looked around to see what was going on. She soon realised where she still was, & that she couldn't been seen by anyone. She then tried to get up, it was hard, but she eventually got up, trying to keep her balance stable. Carrie looked around again to see if anyone had seen her in the distance, but luckily no one was in the graveyard to see her alive & awake, as she was the most unwanted person in all of the town. Carrie then turned her attention to getting out of the cemetery before someone did find her. Carrie started walking & limping, while moaning, groaning & breathing heavily, as she came to a rusty metal wire fence which fenced off the forest behind it. Carrie then slowly raised her arms, trying to use her powers to open a hole in it. Carrie tried & tried, but nothing happened, giving her a massive & painful headache. Carrie tried one last time, as she pushed against the fencing, causing the weakest & rustiest parts of the frame to break & make the wiring collapse. Carrie was relieved, but loved it for long, as she heard a voice coming her way, causing her to quickly make her way through the fence, & into the forest.

(Meanwhileâ€¦)

Sue came walking back into the cemetery, looking down at the floor, still mourning Carrie & Tommy's deaths. As she approached & looked up to Carrie's grave, she froze in shock, to see Carrie's grave was destroyed. Sue held her stomach, to make sure her unborn baby was still in good condition, as she breathed heavily. Sue then felt tears forming in her eyes, until she noticed footprints in the grass, leading to a destroyed fence. Sue was majorly confused at first, but then had a very strange, but strong feeling: what if by some chance, Carrie was still alive. Sue looked around to see no one else around, & decided to follow, as she followed the footprints through the cemetery, & out through the broken fence, into the forest, on her new quest: Find & Help Carrie White.

(Later onâ€¦)

Carrie limped her way, until she sat down by a tree, looking down at herself, as tears began to form in her dry bloodshot eyes, preparing to cry.

"_Whyâ€¦ Whyâ€¦ Why am I still Alive?! Why hasn't God or Satan taken my soul?!"_ Carrie Thought in her head, in a crying & yelling tone, wondering why she hadn't died, after all that happened to her, as tears began slowly dripping from her bloodshot eyes, crying in pain & sorrow.

As Carrie cried, she noticed faint blinks of lights coming from her right. She turned to her right, to see an orb, faintly shining rainbow colours on the ground. Carrie got up, & slowly walked towards the orb in curiosity. Carrie then crouched down, reaching the right arm out to pick it up, when suddenlyâ€¦

"_CARRIE?!_" A girl's voice called in surprise & shock in the tone of her voice, snapping Carrie into fright & shock, as she slowly got up, & turned around slowly shaking, to see Sue standing in front of her, shocked, ready to cry, seeing that Carrie was still alive.

"_S-stay away from me S-Sueâ€¦ I-I'm too d-dangerousâ€¦_" Carrie stuttered, shaking in fright, while slowly reversing away from Sue, as Sue slowly tried to approach Carrie to calm her down.

Carrie then tripped on a branch, & fell straight on her back, on to the orb, smashing it, as its power became unleashed.

"_CARRIE!_" Sue cried as she ran to Carrie, & grabbed held of her, before orb power detonated in a blast of multi colours.

When the blast had cleared, Carrie & Sue were goneâ€|

Date: Tuesday 25th June 2058

Time: 10:00am

Location: Thunderbird 5

Out in space, it was dark with little sparks of the stars in space, but the light of the earth, shone all around the orbit. A space station with solar panels at one end, & a gravity ring at the other, with the name: *"Thunderbird 5", written on the side of the middle, as it floated around the earth in its orbit. Inside, John was floating around the global room, checking for any distress calls, when suddenly, an alarm went off to his right. John then turned the global to the point of origin of the alarm, to see a yellow caution symbol flash rapidly, at a part of the American part of the map.

"_That's oddâ€|"_ John said in concern.

John then got up an IR app, & clicked on a grey rocket shaped button.

"_International Rescue, we have a situationâ€|"_ John said to a projection of Scott & Alan.
